Artist Statement

Change. Everything is always changing. The circumstances in my life and my feelings about these circumstances are constantly fluctuating. I long for something or someplace to truly belong.

Is there something that exists at a deeper level? Is there something that does not change?

The images mediate a space between contemplation and sensual awareness. These images serve as markers within my perceptions of memory. Translations from a fluid, temporal experience into a concrete image allows for the potential of remembering and sharing the experience of being human.

I work to try and remember. I make work to share what it is that matters.
